

Notice of Data Privacy Event

Visiting Nurse Association Home & Health Hospice of Care New England (“VNA”) is providing notice of an event that may affect the confidentiality of one-hundred forty-four patient’s information. The VNA is providing details of the event, our response, and steps individuals may take to better protect their information, should they feel it appropriate to do so.

What Happened? The VNA is committed to protecting the security and confidentiality of our patient’s information. On April 13, 2026, the VNA became aware of an incident involving a vendor of the VNA; DAPlatform, Inc. d/b/a Doctor Alliance (“Vendor”), 5473 Blair Road, Suite 100, Dallas, TX 75231. On November 13, 2025, the Vendor was alerted to a potential security incident that involved documents containing medical information (“Documents”) of patients of the VNA. After discovery of this incident, the Vendor took steps to secure their systems; launched an investigation and notified law enforcement. That investigation determined that an unauthorized party obtained system login credentials and intermittently accessed some of the files contained in the Vendor’s web portal the VNA used for documentation completion between October 31, 2025 and November 17, 2025. The Vendor took steps to enhance its information security posture in response to this incident.

What Information Was Involved. The Documents included names, medical record numbers, health insurance policy numbers, diagnoses, medications, and other treatment information. Financial information, such as payment card information, and Social Security numbers, were not involved.

What We are Doing. We take this event very seriously; the VNA launched an investigation and followed up with the Vendor. Additionally, the VNA put steps in place to ensure the protection of the medical information of patients of the VNA.

What Affected Individuals Can Do. Although the VNA is not aware of any misuse of the information, we encourage the individuals to remain vigilant against incidents of identity theft and fraud, to review account statements and explanation of benefits forms, and monitor free credit reports for suspicious activity, and detect errors. The affected individuals can find out more about how to better protect against the potential misuse of information below.

For More Information. If affected individuals have any questions regarding this event, they may call 833-753-4934, Option 3, Monday through Friday, from 8:00 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Eastern Time or email cnecompliance@carene.org

Steps You Can Take to Help Protect Personal Information

Monitor Your Accounts

Under U.S. law, a consumer is entitled to one free credit report annually from each of the three major credit reporting bureaus, Equifax, Experian, and TransUnion. To order a free credit report, visit www.annualcreditreport.com or call, toll-free, 1-877-322-8228. Consumers may also directly contact the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below to request a free copy of their credit report.

Consumers have the right to place an initial or extended “fraud alert” on a credit file at no cost. An initial fraud alert is a one-year alert that is placed on a consumer’s credit file. Upon seeing a fraud alert display on a consumer’s credit file, a business is required to take steps to verify the consumer’s identity before extending new credit. If a consumer is a victim of identity theft, they are entitled to an extended fraud alert, which is a fraud alert lasting seven years. Should consumers wish to place a fraud alert, please contact any one of the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below.

As an alternative to a fraud alert, consumers have the right to place a “credit freeze” on a credit report, which will prohibit a credit bureau from releasing information in the credit report without the consumer’s express authorization. The credit freeze is designed to prevent credit, loans, and services from being approved in a consumer’s name without consent. Consumers should be aware, however, that using a credit freeze to take control over who gets access to the personal and financial information in your credit report may delay, interfere with, or prohibit the timely approval of any subsequent request or application you make regarding a new loan, credit, mortgage, or any other account involving the extension of credit. Pursuant to federal law, consumers cannot be charged to place or lift a credit freeze on their credit report. To request a security freeze, consumers will need to provide the following information:

1. Full name (including middle initial as well as Jr., Sr., II, III, etc.);
2. Social Security number;
3. Date of birth;
4. Addresses for the prior two to five years;
5. Proof of current address, such as a current utility bill or telephone bill;
6. A legible photocopy of a government-issued identification card (state driver’s license or ID card, etc.); and
7. A copy of either the police report, investigative report, or complaint to a law enforcement agency concerning identity theft if you are a victim of identity theft.

Should consumers wish to place a credit freeze or fraud alert, please contact the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below:

Additional Information

Consumers may further educate themselves regarding identity theft, fraud alerts, credit freezes, and the steps they can take to protect personal information by contacting the consumer reporting bureaus, the Federal Trade Commission, or your state attorney general. The Federal Trade Commission may be reached at: 600 Pennsylvania Avenue NW, Washington, DC 20580; www.identitytheft.gov; 1-877-ID-THEFT (1-877-438-4338); and TTY: 1-866-653-4261. The Federal Trade Commission also encourages those who discover that their information has been misused to file a complaint with them. Consumers can obtain further information on how to file such a complaint by way of the contact information listed above. Consumers have the right to file a police report if they ever experience identity theft or fraud. To file a report with law enforcement for identity theft, consumers will likely need to provide some proof that they have been a victim. Instances of known or suspected identity theft should also be reported to law enforcement and the relevant state attorney general. This notice has not been delayed by law enforcement.
